

Edmonds Special Education PTSA

A united voice positively advocating for the needs of students, school staff and families in Edmonds!

About Us

We are a collaborative of parents, students, school staff and community members advocating for positive outcomes in Special Education, increased access to information and improved community connections.

What we do

We Envision: All students in the Edmonds School District receiving an equal opportunity for meaningful social and academic instruction that prepares them for further education, employment, and independent living.

We listen: Our Parent Liaisons are available to consult on special education concerns via phone or email. Parent Liaisons provide non-legal support, tips and resource referrals.

We collaborate: The PTSA is a collaborative made up of parents, students, school staff and community members who work together for positive changes.

We participate: We participate in groups and meetings across the district providing feedback or collecting feedback to be an informed voice for families of special education students.

We advocate: We identify common concerns affecting special education students and advocate for positive changes.

We inform: We hold bi-monthly meetings with specialized presentations or speakers to help improve access to information.

We want to hear from you: Contact us with questions, feedback and concerns;
