

DEAF SPOTLIGHT

Taught by: Amelia Henley

Grades: 4- 8

Tuition: $360

In the Deaf Spotlight camp, this week will focus on developing original material in the form of ASL poetry, storytelling, movement and theatrical expression. This will be a collaborative effort for all participants as we learn how to create new material, find inspiration from preexisting works of Deaf artists and elevate our artistry as Deaf/hard of hearing and KODA performers. Come ready to move: wear comfortable clothing and sneakers.

April 2 - April 6, 2018, 9:30am - 3:30pm

Sharing/Performance: Friday, April 6, 2018 at 3:30pm

IMPROV OUR WAY INTO MAKING A PLAY

Theatre Class for Special Needs Teens and Adults, on the autism spectrum or with other special needs

We'll start by tossing some ideas around on the first day...play with them through the following weeks, develop them...and by the final class, we'll perform a world-premiere one-act play we've created together out of thin air! Previous stage experience is not necessary. Working together is the key, along with being open-minded and having a sense of adventure. It's a moment in the spotlight for those who may not get the opportunity elsewhere – and a chance to work on social skills in a fun, creative atmosphere.
